

The Loch Ness Monster

There has been a debate for centuries about whether or not a huge creature named the Loch Ness Monster actually lives in a large lake in Scotland called Loch Ness. This web quest will help you discover the facts and opinions about this monster.

Your mission:

Scotland Yard, the police force in London, has requested your investigative agency, NESS BUSTERS, to help them decide, once and for all, if there really is such a thing as the Loch Ness Monster. For years, people have claimed to have seen it living in Loch Ness in Scotland. There have been hundreds of sightings. Your job, should you choose to accept it, is to gather information and evidence. You will have to find photos, sketches, and facts and opinions. Remember you will find evidence for both sides - believers and sceptics.

“Is there something going’ on In this Scottish Loch ? Who are you going to call ?
Ness Busters !”
